LEAD Uganda Trip Application August 18-28, 2010

LEAD Uganda is an educational leadership initiative that takes kids living on the margins of society and gives them all the tools they need to become the next generation of indigenous leadership. Forefront has been partnering with LEAD Uganda for the past 3.5 years and we will be travelling to Uganda once again this summer to work with the kids and experience the program.

While in Uganda, we will be conducting educational seminars to enhance the education that the kids are already receiving. We will be forming teams and developing suitable curriculum over the course of the next several months. You will also get the chance to see and experience some of the more difficult aspects of life in Uganda.

The cost of the trip is $3000, which includes everything except money you spend on souvenirs or personal purchases. For an additional $500 you can extend your trip and go on a Safari. You will have opportunities to raise financial support, both individually and as a team.
